

blinq™ detects functional impairments at precise levels blinq is the first screening instrument that detects micro-strabismus and amblyopia, and accurately detects binocularity associated with as little as 1-degree misalignment