The Database Model

All-in Access

The Database Model is part of our commitment to support and drive the dissemination of scientific discovery and scholarship around the world, offering access to 100% of Wiley Online Library subscription-based journal content including all transfer-in and take-on titles.

No reconciliations, swaps or cancellations—your researchers, students, and faculty have access to every article published by Wiley at a predictable price every year.

Predictable Price

Under the Database Model, everything you've historically had rights to under your previous license— your “Core” subscription—remains yours. Perpetual access rights are also granted for the titles subscribed to in the years you're enrolled in the Database Model.

Your single Database Model fee is based on your current spend on licensed journals on Wiley Online Library and Title-by-Title subscriptions, plus a set price cap increase that covers growth in the database. Open access adjustment is calculated for the database as a whole, and will be adjusted based on any significant shift from subscription-funded articles to pay-for-publish open access articles.

	Archival Access	Perpetual Access
Core	1997 onwards	1997 onwards
Collection	1997 onwards	Subscribed-to years
Database Model	1997 onwards	All of the above, plus subscribed to years

Streamlined, Expedited Renewals

- Saves time and resources through streamlined, expedited renewals: no reconciliations, cancellations or swaps
- Delivers predictable costs through a single fee with a set price cap increase for the term of your agreement

A Better Patron Experience

- Increases access to all Wiley Online Library journal content for all consortia members, researchers and students
- Supports discovery, readership, citations and authorship with broader access to new scientific research
- Improves patrons' library experience— no paywalls and no access denied; access is always “on”

“Everyone has access to everything”

— Director, Library Initiatives,
Big 10 Academic Alliance,
U.S.A

“The simplicity of the model has made it very easy to administrate.”

Article Select Tokens

Fast access to just the content you need

Sometimes your colleagues need access to a few specific research articles quickly and easily, but it isn't economical for your organization to subscribe to all of the journals and content that Wiley provides.

Introducing Article Select, a "token" system that helps your users get the access they need to individual articles outside your institution's holdings.

How does it work? It's simple.

- 1 Get in touch with your Wiley Account Manager, so they can help answer any questions you have.
- 2 Decide how many tokens your organization needs. (Minimum purchase: 100.)
- 3 If your organization doesn't already have an Enhanced Access License (EAL) and an account with Wiley Online Library, we will set them up for you.
- 4 Decide who could use the tokens at your institution, by choosing between 3 different access options: Low, Medium, or High level of control.
- 5 Start using your tokens and accessing content!

wileyonlinelibrary.com

WILEY

What can the tokens access?

Article Select Tokens may be used on the following Wiley Online Library products:

- over 1500 Journals*
- Journal Backfile Collections
- 20,000+ OnlineBooks™
- 185 Major Reference Works*

Once a user spends a token on an article, the article is available for a 24-hour period to all users within your organization's IP address range.

**A small number of journals and reference works titles are not available for purchase with Article Select Tokens.*

Why are tokens useful?

- Instant access to a broad range of full text material that your institution does not currently subscribe to.
- Easy to control and monitor token usage at a level that suits your requirements.
- Unlimited concurrent user access to material accessed via token for 24 hours.
- Token usage included in monthly statistics reports.
- You can see content downloaded within the past 24 hours.
- Current Token balance is also displayed in real time.
- Access is cheaper than purchasing single articles directly online or via a reprints desk.

How do I find out more?

Prices for tokens are subject to the number you purchase. The more you buy, the bigger the discount you receive!

For more information about Article Select functionality or to purchase tokens please either contact your Account Manager directly, or email:

libraryservices@wiley.com

Managing Article Select Tokens

Option

1

Access Control Option #1

Immediate Access

Any Authorized User from your institution can access Wiley Online Library to spend/use Article Select Tokens from your licensed account. Users will download articles using tokens the institution has purchased – they simply click on the article they are interested in, and it uses a token. (there are no ‘pop-ups’ to inform they are spending tokens.)

This is the least restrictive control option.

Access Control Option #2

User Confirmation

2

Any Authorized User from your institution must confirm they want to use the token, in order to spend/use the Tokens in the Licensee's account. A confirmation message will appear on the page. The user will then have the option to download an article using a token. They can do so, by clicking “Confirm.”

This is the intermediate control option

Access Control Option #3

SuperUser Control

Option

You can choose a small group of authorized users to be SuperUsers (i.e. selected library colleagues or departments within your organization). They will become the only authorized users who can spend Article Select Tokens. All other users must request access by getting in contact with a SuperUser.

Only SuperUsers on this list can activate an Article Select Token for a non-subscribed article. Each individual you add to the list must have a User ID and Password for Wiley Online Library. Once a Token has been spent/used all Authorized Users at your institution will have access to the article.

When a SuperUser requests the full text of an article from a non-subscribed journal, a message will appear, prompting users to sign in. If you have chosen this policy, administrators may add or remove Super Users at any time.

2021 Article Select Tokens Pricing

Prices range from $14.70 to $39.90 for Wiley customers. Discounts are based on the pay-per-view price of $42.00
