MASS OBSERVATION PROJECT

Module II: 1990s

Mass Observation Project 1981-2009 provides digital access to a unique life-writing archive, capturing the everyday experiences, thoughts and opinions of people living through the turbulent final decades of the 20th century and the advent of the 21st century.

Module II: 1990s demonstrates how the project continued to evolve and focuses on social and political events of the decade, including the Mad Cow epidemic, the death of Princess Diana, and the General Election.

CENTRAL ASIA, PERSIA AND AFGHANISTAN 1834-1922: From Silk Road to Soviet Rule

This product provides digital access to official British government records relating to the region, from the decline of the Silk Road, through the diplomatic confrontation between the British and Russian Empires known as the "Great Game", to the influence of the emergent Soviet Union in the 20th century.

THE GILDED AGE AND PROGRESSIVE ERA

This collection sheds light on this transformative period in American history, through the records of some of its most famous luminaries of industry, culture and politics.

A richly varied range of archival sources charts the contradictions of the age. The resource includes the personal and business papers of key industrialists and financiers; records of rail, steel and oil corporations; material on labour disputes, politics and progressivism; and rich visual content on fashion, material culture and architecture.

RESEARCH METHODS PRIMARY SOURCES

Research Methods Primary Sources

Research Methods Primary Sources is an online learning tool for primary source literacy that can be used in classroom-based and online teaching, as well as for independent study.

Comprising peer-reviewed essays, How-to guides, newly-commissioned video interviews, case studies, practice sources, and data sets, our learning tools introduce students to key concepts that underpin research in the humanities and social sciences, and share the core principles and practices for evaluating and using primary sources.

COLONIAL CARIBBEAN: CO Files from The National Archives, UK

Module I

Drawn from the vast archives of the British Colonial Office, this is simply an essential resource for all students and researchers of the Caribbean and British colonial rule.

This enormous range of unique primary sources covers British governance of 25 islands in the Caribbean from 1624-1872, meeting teaching and research needs across a wide variety of themes, from settlement and colonial rivalries in the region, to the economics of the plantation systems and the impact of slavery, to crime and punishment and the everyday lives of the people that called the islands home.
