

Exceptional training for the direct service workforce.

“ DirectCourse has made it possible for our association to increase the level of accesses service providers statewide have to high quality training.

– Ben Woodworth, Director of Training, Iowa Association of Community Providers
 DirectCourse Customer

What is DirectCourse?

DirectCourse is trusted training that’s built on the latest research and delivered online via a powerful learning management system (LMS). It gives you the ability to easily access, customize, track and assess training across your staff. DirectCourse is your answer to a more efficient, more cost-effective organization – helping you quickly build a staff that improves the lives of the people they work with and support, while meeting compliance requirements and reducing liability.

What makes us different?

The best content.

We partner with industry experts to create content based on the latest leading research. To write and refine our content, we work with university centers supported by the National Institute on Disability, Independent Living and Rehabilitation Research.

A trusted platform.

We use our own learning management system, Elsevier Performance Manager, to make learning simple and help you meet compliance standards.

See how DirectCourse can work for you.

Visit directcourseonline.com/learnmore to request a free trial today.

DirectCourse is a collaboration between Elsevier and the University of Minnesota’s Research and Training Center on Community Living.

For administrators

- Assign lessons
- Track learner progress
- Customize content

For care and support professionals

- Competency-based training
- Courses accessible anytime
- Learn at their own pace

Change lives with training from DirectCourse.

College of Direct Support

Enable direct support professionals to build their industry knowledge and skills, while always providing the best possible support for those with developmental and intellectual disabilities.

College of Personal Assistance and Caregiving

Give both experienced personal care assistants and family caregivers new to assisting others the knowledge and skills needed to provide care at the highest level, in line with best practices, for older adults and people with physical disabilities.

College of Recovery and Community Inclusion

Support your team of community mental health practitioners with unmatched expertise as they work to expand opportunities for those they support to fully integrate into and participate in their communities.

College of Employment Services

Empower employment professionals with the training needed to best guide people with disabilities and other challenges through finding and maintaining meaningful employment, while developing skills in line with APSE competencies.

DirectCourse has you covered.

- ✓ Expert Content
- ✓ Compliance Tracking
- ✓ Customizable Training