

Clinical Research Center

The Brooks Clinical Research Center is committed to conducting innovative research studies that will advance the knowledge and science of recovery for our patients.

Our main areas of focus include:

- Improving health and mobility, walking recovery, and breathing function following stroke and spinal cord injury
- Delivery of physical therapy for musculoskeletal pain conditions
- Rehabilitative care for individuals with cancer and pelvic & urogynecologic disorders

We offer patients and community members the opportunity to participate in research studies that aim to improve patient outcomes.
