Data Entry: Entering your lead apron data is work flow oriented. ApronCheck.com has been designed specifically for someone performing lead apron inspections and the Director who is ultimately responsible for making sure it is done correctly. The software was designed by a person doing lead apron inspections and is enhanced by input from those using the software. When you see that ApronCheck.com “fits like-a-glove”, you’ll know why, it is by design.

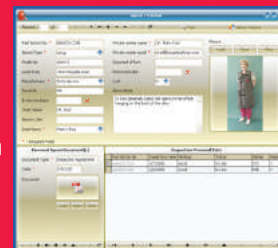

Inspection Worksheets:

There is no easier way to confidently track your lead apron inspections. ApronCheck.com has the inspection worksheets ready to print.

Apron Maintenance:

You discover a damaged lead apron, you call the manufacturer, they decide to repair it. ApronCheck.com can track when it left your facility, where it went, when it returned and more.

Lead Apron Search:

Keeping inspection data in a document or spreadsheet is nearly like keeping all your household silverware in a 5-gallon bucket. Each time you want a fork you have to DIG for it. ApronCheck.com has easy-to-use search features for locating a specific apron, all aprons needing inspection, or some other group or individual criteria.

Reports: Instantly generate inspection reports based on numerous parameters in the software. These informative and easy-to-read reports are indispensable when The Joint Commission, State or other Inspectors arrive.
