

Training and Technical Assistance Catalog

2022 EDITION

Brad Russ | Executive Director
National Criminal Justice Training Center of Fox Valley Technical College

As we approach the second anniversary of the COVID-19 pandemic, I want to begin by recognizing the extraordinary efforts undertaken by our staff and instructors to overcome the many challenges associated with converting traditional classroom training programs to a range of eLearning formats. Working in close collaboration with one another across 12 training categories funded through 14 unique grants and contract training purpose areas, NCJTC staff members and instructors quickly and effectively pivoted to restructure dozens of training programs and their associated resources into a highly effective online format.

We understand the critical need for training and technical assistance and are proud to report that over the first 20 months of the pandemic, NCJTC delivered 695 online training events to over 105,000 participants. While we are hopeful for the resumption of collaborative in-person training on a broader scale, we have learned many valuable lessons throughout these unprecedented times. The pandemic has redefined the relationship between training providers and the people we serve, while also underscoring the value of online learning platforms. Through this medium, we have seen increased levels of participation and greater access to critically important information and resources for underserved, tribal, and rural communities. Future learning opportunities will continue to leverage technology to deliver eLearning resources available through Fox Valley Technical College. We remain committed to learning models that employ a combination of online and in-person training.

NCJTC is dedicated to developing new programs and resources to meet the constantly evolving needs of the criminal justice communities we serve. I encourage you to explore our website to locate the new classroom and online learning opportunities developed this past year at ncjtc.org/training. In 2021, over 1 million website visitors took advantage of our grant funded and cost-recovery training programs to enhance their skills. NCJTC embraces opportunities to collaborate with agencies and communities to host and deliver customized programs that meet your unique needs. We have a cadre of over 150 nationally recognized subject matter experts and 70 dedicated and experienced staff members ready to work with you on a wide range of criminal justice challenges.

Thank you for the work you do to protect Indigenous Sovereign Nations and America's communities.

Learn the complex dynamics involved in a child sex trafficking interview. Gain an understanding of the impact of trauma bonding and Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs as they relate to traffickers recruiting and controlling minors. Recognize why the CST business model is important and how adolescent development plays apart in both trafficking and the interview process.

FIT: Preparing for the CST Forensic Interview

Learn the importance of preparations as it relates to location, timing, observers and choosing the interviewer. Students will be able to list content that will be valuable to discuss during in a team meeting prior to the forensic interview. Dynamics for the alleged victim when scheduling the interview will be considered and documentation methods will be examined.

Interviewing Bilingual and Immigrant Children

Identify barriers to communication and examine tactics for engagement during a bilingual forensic interview. Learn how to engage the family by utilizing tactics or tools to overcome the barriers when you have a case with Spanish-speaking children or families. Gather new resources and learn the steps families can take to utilize support services.

Community Policing and Prevention

Tribal Oriented Policing Strategies Online Training Program

The Tribal Oriented Policing Strategies Online Training Program fosters the use of organized problem-solving law enforcement and community teams to address key challenges, improve public safety, and enhance community quality of life. Review key principles learned during the TOPS classroom training. Topics include: defining community policing, successful community policing strategy, fostering positive community ethics, partnership building, and communication strategies. You will also learn about a six-step problem-solving model you can use to address specific needs in your community that brings results.

Endangered, Missing, and Abducted Children

CART Commander Online Training (CART-COMM)

Gather information on the structure and interdependent functions/roles of a CART program. Learn about protocol development and management, development and use of Memoranda of Understanding, CART composition, training including tabletop exercises and field scenarios, and CART certification standards. Examine a case study which integrates all topics covered for effective CART leadership.

Checklist Training for Investigative Officers

The course will guide you through a case-scenario review of important checklist elements and considerations for effective use. You will be provided with information to support accurate and effective response to reports of endangered missing or abducted children, and effective transition from patrol first response to ongoing investigation of the case.

Child Abduction Response Team Training for New Members (CART-NM)

Consider the scope and scale of the problem of missing and abducted children including CART structure, function and command considerations, investigative considerations, canvass operations, search operations, volunteer management, digital forensics, logistics, recovery, and reunification. Examine a case study in which all concepts taught are integrated and considered for an effective overall response.

Investigative Checklist Training for Patrol First Responders

Gain an overview of the Patrol First Response investigative checklist resource. This training provides a guided case-scenario review of important checklist elements and considerations for effective use. Patrol officers can use this information to support accurate and effective response to reports of endangered missing or abducted children, and assist with steps essential to communicate information to arriving investigators.

Investigative Checklist Training for Supervisory Officers

Gain an overview of the Supervisory Officer Checklist resource. The course will guide you through a case-scenario review of important checklist elements and considerations for effective use. You will be provided with information to support accurate and effective supervisory response to reports of endangered missing or abducted children, and effective coordination of case roles and responsibilities across patrol, investigations and outside resources.

Investigative Strategies for Child Abduction Cases (ISCAC-Online)

Join us for an online version of the onsite ISCAC classroom training, designed to provide law enforcement investigators and investigative supervisors with the information necessary to properly understand, recognize, and investigate cases involving missing and abducted children.

Patrol First Response for Missing and Abducted Children (PATMAC)

Provides law enforcement patrol officers with information and resources to promote swift and effective initial field response to incidents of endangered missing and abducted children. Learn about the scope, scale and nature of the problem. Examine best practices for initial on-scene response, important considerations for transitioning the investigation, and resources for law enforcement.

Responding to Recovered High Risk and Endangered Missing Cases – An Introduction for Law Enforcement Officers

Gather important information to identify poly-exploitation which may have occurred while the child was missing, and the interview process. Learn about the scope, scale, and nature of problem, and how patrol and investigative officers can effectively respond.

Telecommunications Best Practices for Missing and Abducted Children (TELMAC)

Provides law enforcement telecommunications personnel with information and resources to promote swift and effective response to incidents of endangered missing and abducted children. Classroom Trainings NCJTC is proud to offer two formats for classroom training: Live Online Instructor Led and Onsite (In person). Both formats are real time and offer participant interaction with live instructors and other participants. Some of our most popular classes are offered in both an online and onsite format, while other classes are strictly onsite due to the nature of the training. We want you to get the most out of your training with the utmost flexibility.

Visit ncjtc.org/training for current upcoming training dates and formats.

Alcohol and Substance Abuse

Community Drug Awareness Presentation

One way to promote a drug free community is to create more awareness of the issue within the community. During this presentation, your attendees will learn about opiates and methamphetamines, which have gained in popularity and negatively impacted your community. They will learn how drug abuse is affecting youth, how to recognize behaviors that are associated with abuse, and what medical responses are necessary.

Core Drug Endangered Children (DEC) Awareness: Identifying Drug Endangered Children, A Collaborative Approach

Drug endangered children are part of a very large, and growing population of children whose lives have been seriously and negatively impacted by dangerous drugs. This training looks at overcoming the challenges in aligning agencies and systems responsible for preventing, intervening, and treating these issues to change the trajectories of the lives of drug endangered children and break multi-generational cycles of abuse and neglect.

Crisis Awareness, Intervention and De-escalation Training for Tribal Partners

Examine common issues faced by law enforcement and service providers when encountering a person in crisis. Review methods to prevent or intervene in a crisis situation in which mental illness is a factor, including de-escalation and communication techniques. Identify presenting symptoms of various types of mental health disorders and explore intervention strategies and methods for assessing the presence of suicidal intention.

Current Drug Trends

The opioid crisis and the flood of other drugs has reached epidemic proportion in many of our communities. Learn more about this national challenge and other emerging drug trends such as Fentanyl, heroin, cocaine, methamphetamines, synthetic cannabinoids, and other chemicals. Explore the challenges associated with the legalization of marijuana in many states and vaping, Butane hash oil, and cannabis edibles. Learn about the stages of use, addiction, withdrawal symptoms, and the health and life-threatening dangers.

Drug Identification and Recognition to Support Tribal Justice

Recognize signs and symptoms of stimulants, hallucinogens, opiates, marijuana, alcohol, depressants, inhalants, dissociative anesthetics, and various drug combinations. Examine current drug trends and the legal considerations related to drug investigations.

Drug Trend Awareness to Support Tribal Justice

Review emerging drug trends such as Fentanyl, Fentanyl laced pills, heroin, cocaine, methamphetamines, synthetic cannabinoids, and other chemicals affecting tribal communities. Discuss specific challenges associated with vaping, butane hash oil, cannabis edibles. Explore the issues these “new drug delivery systems” have caused many states and tribal communities. Review the stages of use, addiction, withdrawal symptoms, and the health and life-threatening dangers posed from the use of drugs. Recognize the signs and symptoms of drug usage, as well as how Naloxone/Narcan works in cases of opioid overdoses.

Opiates and Why Heroin?

Learn which opiates and depressants are abused most frequently and about the dangers of new synthetics, including Fentanyl. Examine stages of use, addiction, and withdrawal symptoms, and the health and life-threatening dangers posed from use of these drugs.

Drug Endangered Children(DEC): From Tribal Community Awareness to Action

Join us to discuss approaches to overcoming the challenges in aligning agencies and systems responsible for preventing, intervening, and treating these issues to change the trajectories of the lives of drug-endangered children. Explore best practices in breaking the multi-generational cycles of abuse and neglect. Examine steps to implement the Drug Endangered Children (DEC) Approach, a comprehensive strategy based on a common vision, collaboration that is on-going between various disciplines and agencies, and on-going changes in practice.

Local Drug Endangered Children(DEC) Alliance Development: Sustaining the DEC Approach

Examine the proven specific steps and techniques for local practitioners to establish a formal DEC alliance. Participate in instructor led discussions and activities focused on forming a local DEC alliance, the challenges of collaboration and sustaining that collaboration, and the benefits of changing practices and procedures on an on-going basis to benefit drug endangered children.

The Drug Endangered Children (DEC) Approach: Moving From Awareness to Action

Identify risks to drug-endangered children and what to look for when collecting evidence and information on drug endangered children. Review pictures and videos of real DEC scenarios to assist professionals in understanding what to look for regarding the “life of the child”.
