Matthew A. Benzoni, Esq. is an associate in Frier Levitt's Life Sciences practice group. Matthew's practice focuses in the areas of healthcare, life sciences, and pharmaceutical law, counseling clients on a range of issues including drug pricing-related matters, Medicaid Drug Rebate Program (MDRP) compliance, and price reporting obligations under federal and state laws. In addition, Matthew regularly assists pharmacy providers facing Pharmacy Benefits Manager (PBM) audits, investigations, network terminations, and Board of Pharmacy actions.

Matthew earned his Juris Doctor from Seton Hall University School of Law, where he attended on a merit scholarship. Before beginning his legal career and while in law school, Matthew spent a decade in the pharmaceutical industry, helping oversee business development activities for several multinational pharmaceutical and drug substance manufacturers in North America. As a result, he is well-versed in both the legal and business issues impacting pharmaceutical manufacturers seeking to bring drug products to market.

Prior to joining Frier Levitt as a full-time associate, Matthew also worked as a Law Clerk at Frier Levitt, served as a student attorney with Seton Hall Law's Health Justice Clinic, and held the position of Judicial Intern to the Honorable Michael A. Shipp, United States District Court Judge for the District of New Jersey.
