

About Us: In 1972 Bob Barker set up his business in the back of a barber shop and started supplying food service equipment to jails. From those modest beginnings, Bob Barker Company has introduced many new, innovative products to help solve customers' problems and make corrections and detention facilities safer.

Today, the company offers the broadest product line and largest inventory of corrections and detention supplies to federal, state and local government agencies and select businesses. Bob's son, Robert, serves as president and CEO, and his daughter, Nancy, is the company's Chief Operating Officer. Bob Barker with his wife, Pat, continue to play an active role on the company's Board of Directors.

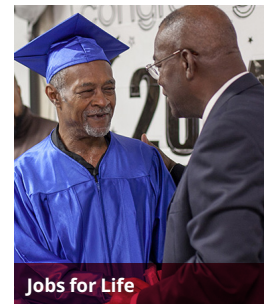

Our Foundation: The Mission of the Bob Barker Foundation is to develop and support programs that help incarcerated individuals successfully re-enter society and stay out of prison for life. Since 2009, the Bob Barker Foundation has granted over $7.6 million across 386 organizations, helping more than 3.3 million people while reducing recidivism across the United States.

Barker Innovations: Our dedicated Product Development Team works with customers like you to research and create modern solutions for your specific needs. Barker Innovations make your operations more convenient and efficient, and they also help make them safer and more secure.

CO-OP Agreements: Bob Barker Company is an approved vendor and holds national contracts with GSA Advantage, National IPA, BuyBoard, Operational Services Division (OSD) of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and OMNIA Partners.
